A physician has startled science by declaring that a sure way to shorten life is to drink lots of water. Very interesting, but for quick and sure results along that line, to be obtained from liquids, the conservative man probably will continue to select the present bootleg booze.—Kansas City Post.

We have nothing more to say about the county jail since a prisoner went through the stovepipe hole in our own city jail and another dropped out the jail window.

There is always one vehicle you can call your own—the water wagon.—Exchange.

Some men grin, but they never smile. Grins make a fellow tired. They wash off so easily. But smiles that come from way down deep in the heart—What a comfort they are on a stormy day!—Farm Life.

A good resolution: Let advertising do more of the heavy work.

PROVINCE OF A NEWSPAPER

Fort Worth (Tex.) Star-Telegram. It would be comical, were it not somewhat pathetic, the way newspaper offices are besieged every day by their friends, urging them to "roast" this and that; to "see to it" that this and that is corrected; to have his and that done in the city or county; to start this and that kind of movement to correct evils in the state government. These friends actually appear to believe that it is the newspaper's business to handle all these affairs.

But a self-respecting newspaper, though ready and willing to carry all reasonable responsibility must remind its readers that they—the people—are the authority upon whom rests the responsibility for the present state of affairs local, state and national.

A self-respecting newspaper tries to support the news of what actually happens, not what it might wish had happened. The relation of a self-respecting newspaper to the general public is not always understood. It is the duty of a newspaper to be in a position to support any good act and criticize any bad act of public policy. This relationship cannot exist where favors are asked and granted. Honesty is the only policy for a newspaper.

If objectors don't like the way things are going, they should qualify as voters, and then raise Cain about it.

Trade does not follow the sign of the horse-shoe or the rabbit's foot. It goes where it is ASKED BY GOOD ADVERTISING.

Nearly all bad habits of people result directly or indirectly from influences of associates and home conditions in childhood.—Team Life.

SAFETY FIRST FOR MOTORISTS

The increasing number of casualties caused by careless driving has made it necessary for a state law to be made regulating speed and traffic rules of motorists. A speed limit of twenty-five miles an hour is one of the provisions and this applies to country roads as well as to city traffic. A signal system is provided which clearly indicates what a driver intends to do. Under the new law, the arm extended at an angle above horizontal means a right turn. Extending in a horizontal position slowing or stopping, and at an angle below horizontal means left turn. Cars equipped so that arm signals cannot be used must be equipped with rear signaling devices. The new law is similar to regulations used in the east. Every driver of a car should make himself familiar with the provisions of the law.

HOW BETTER THAN PILLS?

The question has been asked in that way are Chamberlain's Tablets superior to the ordinary cathartic and liver pills? Our answer is, they are easier and more pleasant to take and their effect is so gentle that one hardly realizes that it is produced by a medicine. Then, they not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion.

DEHYDRATION

Dehydration, the process of removing surplus moisture from fruits and vegetables, has come to stay. It preserves for years without impairing natural flavor: It reduces bulk and weight. By the

Hammond Evaporator And Dehydration Process

the water is removed, but the flavor remains and the cell structure is preserved. By placing the Dehydrated products in water the cells are again filled and the product is restored to its original appearance, flavor and odor. Dehydrated food will be used universally, because its use is so simple. It is now used by the armies of the United States and other nations. It is finding its place on the shelves of the family kitchen, the cabins of the miners, upon shipboard and in the storerooms of the largest hotels, clubs and hospitals. It is welcomed in the Arctic regions, and can be as readily used in the Tropics. Dehydration provides a ready market for all the farmer and gardener may raise. The people must eat, and there never has been an overproduction of food, in the long run, for the world's population. It is a revelation to those who have not previously seen the refreshed Dehydrated products and how much they resemble the fruits and vegetables in their original fresh, ripe state, from which distinction can hardly be made.
